dedication

enter new each year a class of mighty freshmen ... mighty new at all this college life . . . entrance tests and picnics . . . rush week settles with a bang upon the freshies . . . perhaps a bit bewildered but soon wise to the truth that they are definitely the center of attraction of all supposed high and mighty upperclassmen . . . green ribbons and black sweaters soon appear to make it easy for old students to pick out green, but new and interesting, frosh . . . freshman dinks bound over campus in a frantic doubletime . . .

sophomores take over bemis . . . act old and important trying to avoid that threatened sophomore slump . . . supervise belt lines and kangaroo court . . . attempt to prosper financially by selling elevator tickets to up and coming frosh . . .

come third year, juniors scurry around, suddenly aware that by this time one is supposed to have a major . . . realize at last that they are upperclassmen . . . put up a brave front and manage such affairs as the junior prom and the nugget . . . seniors have no trouble occupying their time . . . concentrated studying . . . with more and more activities . . . putting out the tiger, managing the school . . . then homecoming, football games, christmas formals for the last time as undergraduates . . . spring brings more studying and comprehensives . . . recognition of achievement in who's who . . . phi beta kappa . . . and finally senior week . . . senior sneak day . . . senior prom . . . class day . . . and at last, commencement . . . but well outlined as these classes may be in themselves, they are not unities each standing alone . . . they are only a part of the undergraduate student body of colorado college . . . this student body is the whole . . . without each of the parts it would be an incomplete failure . . . so it is to all the undergraduates that we dedicate this book . . . in picturing the year's activities perhaps it will show better than words that colorado college is not only for ... but of its members.

thurston j. davies

a.b., II.d., president of colorado college

to all students alike, from entering freshmen trembling in their boots to seniors looking back on nearly four years of college life packed with memories . . . and more than that . . . experiences . . . "prexy" davies symbolizes the true spirit of colorado college . . . friendship . . . enthusiasm . . . loyalty . . . and above all a drive to do bigger and better things on campus and off . . . an ambition to make c.c. the best in the eyes of everyone from this city to the country over . . . as well as in the eyes of its student body . . . which doesn't have to be convinced . . . although constantly traveling around on jaunts to various parts of the country to contact high moguls of top-flight educational institutions, "prexy" is not the unapproachable executive . . . his fame spreads far and wide, but with his little black and gold tiger mascot on his desk before him, "prexy" davies is definitely the students' choice.

the class of '42 came to c.c. last fall with a more serious attitude than in previous years. this was to be the last step toward their goal—a degree. carefully they registered for courses . . . then started the routine of classes and tests . . . joel husted, mary alice gibbs, and lloyd christiansen directed affairs as class commissioners . . . they also found time for fraternity and sorority formals, dinners, and steak fries . . . new pledges . . courses in flying . . . football games amio' "the black and the gold" . . . and especially the exciting c.c.-greeley game and the r.m.c. championship . . radio dances . . . then in the middle of the year came that startling sunday afternoon . . . the attack on pearl harbor . . . the declaration of war which was to affect the life of each c.c. student . . . some senior men had to leave immediately for the army . . . the second semester brought daily physical ed classes . . . home nursing and first aid . . . increased study and shiny new phi beta kappa keys . . . before comprehensives the seniors enjoyed g.a. dances . . . baseball and track . . . the easter holidays . . . in april some senior men closed their college careers and went to work for uncle sam . . . the last and most important event for the seniors came in june . . . commencement and a bachelor's degree!

"mignon" provides c.c. with a little culture

after the strangeness of near-front seats in chapel had worn off, the juniors chose mel johnson, mary ellen jensen, and dick leach to handle the business of the class. they were soon buried in books, term papers, soc. projects, labs, but they often took time out to go to murray's or lennox house for cokes and peanut-butter rolls. a red-letter day was marked by the awarding of a.a. degrees. on the lighter side of college life were the trip to golden for the nerve-wracking c.c.-mines game . . . "mignon" for music lovers and "i killed the count" for drama lovers . . . basketball at the aud . . . hockey at the ice palace. once more the would-be students were steeped in despair when semester exams appeared . . . during the second semester the shadow of war overhung all, but students found recreation in the tiger club casino dance . . . red lantern club initiation . . . the friday rush for "the tiger" . . . sun baths on bemis roof . . . the always popular junior prom . . . sorority serenades for the fraternities. by the end of may their third year was finished and the juniors were wondering if they would be back at c.c. next september.

, the free company

through the past thirteen years koshare of colorado college has grown from three members struggling to produce plays in bemis basement to the smooth running organization which it is today. it must be with great satisfaction that arthur g. sharp, director of drama, looks at the organization which owes its present place and respect among collegiate theatres to his knowledge, drive, and personality. indicative of koshare's present standing is the reference made in norris houghton's new book "advance from broadway" which describes koshare very flatteringly. mr. houghton, author of "moscow rehearsals", winds up his remarks, "in these five (colleges) from new england to california a pattern has begun to take shape which most others will follow." "in koshare," he continues, "student initiative is encouraged up to a point: to a greater degree, in fact, than i observed at any of the colleges already mentioned." . . .

now with its thirteenth year over the koshare that has provided an education in itself plus a great deal of fun for so many of the student body will be abandoned because "uncle arthur" sharp is leaving the faculty to take a position with the army in connection with soldier entertainment. dramatics at the college will be continued but the opinion expressed by students active in koshare is that the absence of uncle arthur will take the spirit and fun out of

"i killed the count"

the big venture of this season was the all original musical comedy ... the bar nothin'... here students were called upon to provide the book, the music, and all features of the production which in the usual course of things are available from publishers... the book was provided by bob udick, orchestration and musical direction by stan finn, songs by al fuquay, gertrude abrams, jean herlihy, bill kistler, gladys childress, stan finn, betty wilcox, and tom hoe ... les goss excelled in the role of delmer findle as did joan englehard as the ma-un hunting gladys gimbel . . . kenny moore and ida myrtle white and their rendition of "a dream is born" will linger in c.c. memories . . . involved in the bar nothin' were close to one hundred students, each of whom came through with their best. . . . opening the season "i killed the count" brought out comedy and mystery . . . the befuddled detective and his assistant were played by charles giese, koshare vice-president, and bob udick respectively . . . making their first appearance for koshare in this fun fest were joan englehard, jean herlihy, and howie henderson . . .

next, for the first time on any stage, was produced maxwell anderson's "miracle of the danube" and james boyd's "one free man." both of these plays were originally written for radio and were adapted by mr. sharp into very effective stage plays . . . as its last production koshare sponsored "pursuit of happiness" as produced by the civic theatre of denver . . .

denver . . . due to the leaving of mr. sharp the final play of the season "captain applejack" was dropped in rehearsal since it was felt that without "uncle" it would be practically impossible to do justice to the enjoyable comedy . . .

colorado college had a new coaching staff and a new backfield this year but still brought home its second successive rocky mountain conference championship, until the last two games of the season the tigers were among the nation's undefeated and untied football teams, but grinnell college and subzero weather and occidental college and no bill singen were enough to spill the bengals from the unblemished ranks.

alumnus juan reid, one of c.c.'s all-time athletic greats, was appointed to the post of football coach which was vacated by clark de groot, who stayed long enough during 1940 to win for the tigers their first championship under the new five school rocky mountain conference setup. juan chose as his assistant mark duncan, who was an all big seven guard from denver university during the preceding year. when the two took over early in september they found (1) no man left from the 1940 championship backfield—rosander, french, and singen had not returned to school and 1940 captain heizer was ineligible—(2) a completely experienced and big line, (3) two members of the 1939 team who had not played in '40, and (4) a squad wondering about the draft.

briefly reid's troubles were too many linemen and not enough backs, proportionately, so his first move was to shift captain tom pelican, an all-conference end in 1940, to wingback. tex schuler, who had played as no. 5 man in the 1940 backfield, was a sure choice for tailback. john clark, returning to the gridiron after a year's layoff, looked big and tough in the fullback slot and fritz minuth, though small and only a sophomore, was all set as blocking back. all during the first weeks of practice it was this backfield that was the unknown quantity.

but the line was a different matter—a veritable coach's dream with experienced men two deep in every position. all ritchie, dale peterson, and lloyd christiansen fought for positions all the way and later on during the season herb vandemoer, improving all the time, was an added factor at end. dick mc knight, hank elkins, and gene kohler were big veterans at the tackle slots, and sophomore bill clark worked into a starting tackle position later on. bernie wiener, vincent smith, and lew miller had the experience at guard, and dave friend, a sophomore, developed strongly during the year, and at center, as in 1940, sog panter and bill goodknight shared the spotlight.

colorado college 42—regis 0 that was how the team looked on paper. but when tiger fans turned out at washburn field, saturday, september 27, they didn't expect to see the bewildering display of power shown that they did see. with c.c. scoring at will, the fans gasped as regis fell, 42-0 before the blistering onslaught. spectators envisioned a year-long aerial circus as schuler and pelican worked the same pass play for two touchdowns in the first period. It was triple threat schuler passing and capt. pelican receiving. ritchie gave the crowd something to consider when he booted the two conversions—and three more later on during the game!

colorado college 19—western state 0 the big thing about the week preceding the western state game, although no one much realized it, was the return to school of bill singen. true, he had been wingback in the 1940 starting backfield, but he hadn't been noted as an exceptional player. sports writers, however, did note a gleam of satisfaction and contentment in juan reid's eyes when he first watched the 6 foot, 195 pound fullback work out. the day for the first conference game dawned and sports experts in the region wondered if the western state jinx, which had resulted in the only 1940 conference blemish—a scoreless tie—would hold true again.

c.c. started to push the mountaineers around from the opening whistle and drove to the western 12 when the first quarter ended. in the opening seconds of the second period the tigers pushed to the singen, who looked good, but nothing like the singen that was to come later, ferris, and pelican alternated on a 55-yard tiger march that culminated in a score when singen plunged over from the one yard line. ferris made good the point to conclude the day's scoring. it was in this game that fritz minuth, the lone sophomore started during the first half of the season, really displayed his true worth at blocking back. colorado college 28—montana state 7 seeking their third straight and second conference win, the reidmen met the bobcats from bozeman on washburn field. with schuler forging ahead in the conference scoring race, the bengals had little difficulty winning, 28-7.

the stocky triple-threat tailback scored all 14 c.c. points in the first half by plunging over from the one yard line, catching a "sleeper" from singen and plunging over from the two, and making two conversions.

deciding that the visitors had had enough tallying for the day, singen, schuler & co. busied themselves and drove to the bobcat nine as the third period ended. on the next play singen busted through for the "icing" score. ritchie made the conversion. just a few plays later miller, panter, elkins, smith, and kohler broke "little john" ferris loose, and the little tailback twinkled 38 yards for the last touchdown. ritchie made the point, and the tigers had scored their second straight conference win and third straight win for juan.

freshman sports 'bully' and frosh football on the left is w. t. "bully" van de graaff, the grand old man of c.c. athletics, who was forced to relinguish his post as football coach because of ill health. "bully", who can't get football out of his blood, served as coach of the freshman outfit. the frosh, though light, inexperienced, few in numbers, didn't respond to the master's teaching for they lost three and won one. the tigerbabies beat pueblo j.c. 19-6, but lost to mines, 27-0, trinidad j.c., 18-0, and greeley, 28-0. mullins, with two touchdowns, and little 135-lb. pete finley with one, were the sole scorers on the yearling eleven. numeral winners were bowles, burckley, coomer, finley, geisert, gray, harnish, hurley, larson, liljestrom, mullins, ricci, viebrock, wickhorst, young, ken carter, lee carter, stewart, and buehler and fellows, managers.

the freshman basketball five played three official games under the tutelage of four different coaches this year. counting three scrimmages with the strong colorado springs high school quintet the bengalettes had one of the best seasons on record for they dropped but one game. When the season started mark duncan was the mentor, but business necessitated his transfer to denver so juan reid, the varsity coach, took over until rollie gardner, an all-conference big seven guard from utah state, could be located to coach. rollie had to leave before the season was completed, so dwight reid, who coached the 1940-1 frosh, took over for the last game.

with roy wagner doing most of the scoring, and nick yeonopo'us, lee carter, and howie henderson playing stellar ball, the freshmen nicked pueblo j.c. 44-43, trinidad j.c. 37-33, and the high school three times. trinidad got revenge in the last game of the year, 55-42, as the yearlings were handicapped by lack of substitutes.

ed gentry and bill blankenship were starters in the first game, but both left school after the end of the first semester, besides wagner, carter, henderson, and yeonopolus, other numeral winners were ray dufour, harry tenenbaum, and bob ernest.

pictured here is "little jackie" ferris, the smallest and lightest football player in the conference. jackie, who weighed only 148 pounds, was a terror on end runs in the first four games until he was injured. the idol of colorado springs youth, he was emulated when the youngsters started wearing yellow helmets, just like the one he wore.

brilliant goalie for c.c.'s no. I hockey team for three years was bob scarlett. this boy from quebec was a campus favorite, a bulwark in front of the cage, and a regular fellow. immediately following the completion of the season bobby went back to canada to enlist in the air corps. his parting words were, "hope to see you all around again, sometime, some place."

pelican

here is presented c.c.'s premiere athlete of 1941-2—football and basketball captain tom pelican. all-conference end in 1940 tommy was shifted to a backfield post this year in which position, though not as spectacular, he was a consistent and steadying influence. he was the backbone of the basketball team, a team player, a swell fellow to play for, and a man's man. an honor student, tommy has left his indelible mark on c.c. athletic annals.

may 1942, looked upon the dismembering of one of the greatest teams in collegiate hockey today. from a sextet almost defeated into oblivion by successive early season reverses, c.c. battered its way back through the ivy league, the pacific coast league, and the big ten into the national limelight to share the mythical u. s. collegiate championship with the university of southern california. today this great team has disbanded and almost every man is joining the armed forces of the united states or canada.

starting the season slowly c.c. dropped the first encounter of its "notre dame schedule" to dart-mouth college, the most highly rated team east of the mississippi but came back in beautiful form to conquer the ivy league champions by a 3-1 count the next night.

a few days later c.c. entrained for california on a barnstorming tour, playing a game every other night. it was on this trip that c.c. dropped far down in national hockey standings by losing to the semi-pros of bakersfield and san diego by the same scores of 4-1. the next game was dropped 10-4 to u.s.c. and another one two days later to santa rosa, 4-1. it was on the last night of the tour at berkeley when the c.c. underdogs toppled the university of california from the west coast championship by a 1-0 score. in that game the rejuvenated c.c. juggernaut started on its great comeback, beating down the defenses of the greatest college sextets and losing but one of its last nine games, thereby rising to the pinnacle of american ice hockey.

c.c., coming back to home ice for the rest of the season, again beat the revengeful californians from berkeley, 5-3, but lost the last of the three battles, 3-2, in an excellent exhibition of pugilism.

this aggregation scored more than three-fourths of the c.c. goals this year. george ewanus, spike wilson, and rollie minette. wilson was the spearhead of the attack but even then it was true that a star is no stronger than his teammates.

after a brief rest the tigers grappled to two terrific deadlocks with the trojans of u.s.c., 6-6 and 2-2. in the first game the bengals missed a victory by a u.s.c. goal in the last 30 seconds of the regular game. during the ensuing overtime the visitors went ahead but missed their chance for victory by a tiger goal in the last second of play, the second night, before an all-time record crowd of 2300 people, the trojans tried desperately for a win but failed as the two teams, playing punishing hockey between free-for-alls, were separated at the final buzzer at 2-2.

two weeks later the tigers, thirsty for victories, pounced on the wolverines of the university of michigan with whirlwind attacks of beautiful hockey, downing them 6-2 and 10-2.

the "cinderella" team of c.c. has the distinction of never going scoreless in a game during its three years of bigtime life and of drawing a total of 35,000 fans for the 1942 season alone.

from an intramural sport in 1939, hockey burst into bigtime competition a year later with a ranking in national collegiate hockey of 4th. though dropping to about tenth place the following year it has regained its fame and now shares the mythical championship with u.s.c.

the team is now disbanded and this june the players will scatter into the armies and navies of the united nations.

to the left is pictured bill mc grath, a fellow who represents the ultimate in spirit, conscientiousness, and just plain guts. it was his misfortune to seek a position on the hockey squad at goal, a position that had been monopolized by bob scarlett for three years. realizing that he had little chance of ever playing, bill nevertheless plugged away practicing, dreaming, organizing, and living hockey. early in the 1942 season he was cut seriously by a hockey runner. though hobbling around on crutches, he still kept up his fire, took the trip to california, helped out as much as he could by writing press notices, making arrangements, and the like. for all his fire and determination he played two periods-both in the lopsided michigan series. admired and respected by the student body as an example of unselfishness and perseverance, goalie bill mc grath poses for the nugget in the picture at the left.

were it not for the present world war II, colorado college would have the nucleus of another great team, but demands of both the american and canadian governments necessitate the break-up of this powerful aggregation. this does not mean that there will be no hockey at c.c. next year; only that if there is, it will be with a virtually new squad.

an "even-stephen" basketball five won eight and lost eight during the 1941-42 season, winning three and losing three preseason contests, winning four and losing four conference tilts, and winning one and losing one in the national a.a.u. tournament in denver.

the tigers played erratically and inconsistently during the first part of the season but developed into one of the best teams in the region by the end of the schedule.

outstanding player on the squad and captain-elect for 1943 was duane quamme, who won the individual scoring title in the conference with 113 points in eight games, quamme was named as a forward on both the denver post and rocky mountain news all-conference teams, capt, tom pelican, who started slowly but ended the season as a smooth, accomplished guard and scorer, was placed on the second team of both selections.

the c.c. squad started its schedule on the weekend before christmas by touring new mexico and meeting n.m. mines twice, once in santa fe and once in socorro. a miner forward named gene clark was the major cause of both defeats, for he poured 45 points through the hoop in the two games. quamme was the big gun in the rather impotent c.c. attack with 22 points in the 35-31 and 46-39 defeats.

arizona state teachers of flagstaff were c.c.'s next opponents and the lumberjacks split with the tigers on the local court, losing 40-31 and winning 40-25. quamme and joel husted, stellar guard, were the scorers in this series.

the regis rangers, who have never defeated colorado college in recent history in any sport . . . bowed to superior speed and skill 40-30 and 47-32. quamme, husted and pelican tallied 33 points in the first game, but eight men had two points or more in the second contest.

clothlegs joel husted

the bengals crossed monarch pass to play their opening conference doubleheader with western state and much to the surprise of local pessimists they won the series rather handily 50-33 and 36-28. while husted and pelican were holding bill andreas, western's 1941 conference scoring leader, to six and eight points in the series, quamme was establishing himself as the man to beat in the league with 33 points for his two evenings' work.

the bengals were now riding high at the head of the conference, but greeley, who had dropped their first two games to montana state, went on the warpath and trimmed the reidmen, 43-26, in a game that showed how poor the tigers could look. the next saturday quamme and lee talbott of mines had a scoring duel; quamme won the duel, 22-19, but mines won the ball game 42-40, when talbott made two free throws in the final seconds. the next friday the bengals went through the motions of playing soccer and looked as though it was they, the upperclassmen, rather than the freshmen who were going through hell week, which was in session at the time. for the bobcats from bozeman came down and administered c.c. its worst lick-windy tries a one-hander against arizona as pelican and husted close in.

unquenchable george winters

ing in juan reid's coaching history, 58-26. just to show how peculiar basketball can be, c.c. came back the second night, played the best ball of the year, and outlasted and outpointed the bobcats, 49-45, in the most thrilling game of the season. pelican, with seventeen points, quamme, husted, and long were the principal point makers in the last game. c.c. went to greeley to cling on to its slim chance of sharing the title, and did a fine job of clinging on until 90 seconds remained to the ball game. but in this last minute and a half the bears loosed a five-basket barrage that gave them the game and their second successive championship, 53-40. quamme had 17 and pelican 10, but emery, doty, and stokes combined for 39.

sleepy rollie dickison

seeking to defeat mines for a change, the tigers went into what they thought would be their last game. quamme and talbott had the scoring title on the block, for though each had played in one less game than the scorers from the other three teams in the conference, each already had more points. talbott had 99 in seven games and quamme had 96. c.c. won the game, 42-40, and quamme won the scoring title when he made seventeen points for a grand total of 113 while talbott could get but 12 for a total of 111.

the tigers were all ready to hang up their suits when coach reid advanced the idea of participation in the world's series of basketball, the national a.a.u. tournament held annually in denver. c.c. protected the tradition that a black and gold team never loses the first game in the a.a.u.'s. with quamme making twenty points c.c. leveled the phillips university five of enid, oklahoma, 49-34. but george winters was the real hero of this game. george who had sat on the bench most of year because of inability to hit the hoop, celebrated his election into phi beta kappa by making 12 points, the next afternoon the tigers were thrown against the seeded dr. pepper quintet from dallas and after a long battle succumbed, 59-54, to the five that averaged two inches more per man. quamme made 21 to give himself the highest two-or-moregames average in the tourney, pelican 12, and winters 10.

the bengal 1941 track squad completed one of its most successful seasons in years by defeating both conference opponents, mines and greeley, in dual meets. the tigers fell before an intersectional rival, oklahoma a&m 83-46, won several places in both the c.u. indoor invitational and the c.u. relays, and placed second to greeley in the conference meet.

although graduation did not seriously affect the 1942 track squad, the army has, gone via the diploma road were charlie meigs, injured all during the 1941 season, bob kaye, and george peck, but gone to the armed services were mark lee, harold french, pinky calhoun, and john atwood, up from the freshman ranks were two likely prospects, bill terry and les goss.

just before the nugget went to press, the irishmen suffered a severe loss when doctors advised captain don cushman, stellar miler, to forego running in favor of something less strenuous.

doc woodward

here is the grandest man in the athletic department. one of the most successful doctors in town, he devotes more time than he really ought helping tiger athletes. his work goes beyond treating injuries—breaks, sprains, bruises, cuts. for everyone in a black and gold uniform is one of doc's boys. he will do and does everything for them. he treats his boys at all opportunities, especially when he travels with the teams. he's a great guy, a right guy, and there are few c.c. athletes who don't swear by grand doc woodward.

bill terry, dave winternitz, and les goss were the class of the 1941 freshman track team that placed two teams in the c.u. junior college-college freshman relays, socked pueblo j.c., 69-39, and placed third in the junior college-conference freshman meet in the pueblo meet the versatile messrs. terry and winternitz scored 39 points between them.

other point winners were tim bell, herb vandemoer, jones flook, bob neill, bill root, bob clark, and dave friend. juan reid, who had been given a vacation from baseball, served as coach.

tony simone succeeded juan reid, who was kicked upstairs as head football coach, as varsity baseball coach and brought home to colorado springs a tie for the championship with greeley. only three teams were in the r.m.c. baseball league; greeley and c.c. won three and lost one, mines lost four.

credit for c.c.'s strong showing mainly goes to pat fitzgerald, who was the leading pitcher and leading hitter in the conference. pat won six out of seven games, losing only his first start in the season's opener against d.u. the final c.c. record was seven games won and four lost.

jack smith, c.c.'s accomplished first baseman, catches a regis player off first base.

high point of the year occurred in the last series when colorado university, riding high on the crest of a 25 game winning streak, confidently engaged the tigers in a two-game series. fitzgerald allowed the buffaloes nine scattered hits, but bore down in the pinches to win his ball game, 4-3. al ritchie and jack smith were the power hitters in this game. boulder sent its noted dale atkins against the tigers in the second game, but the contest developed into a hitting one which c.u. won, 8-7.

the starting lineup generally shaped up with bill goodknight catching, fitzgerald pitching, jack smith at first, red lewis at second, jack ferris at third, bob curtan at shortstop, and capt. bob anderson, don higgs, and either joe abell, bill eagleton or al ritchie in the field. other letter winners were bill singen, pitcher, and george peckham, manager.

the best golf squad in the state last spring belonged to colorado college, for coach nathaniel wollman's swingers won the rocky mountain conference crown by placing four men in the semifinals and won the state intercollegiate title by vanquishing c.u., d.u. and mines.

worth stimits and bud plantz, no. I and 2 men respectively, were the backbone of the tiger aggregation, stimits seldom shooting higher than 74 and plantz 77. these two were the finalists in the conference meet, with stimits shading plantz, 2 up and I to go. stimits was one up on the 17th when plantz shot a birdie 4 to seemingly tie up the match. so stimits calmly sank his approach for an eagle 3 to win the title.

c.c. had 417 strokes for five men to win the state intercollegiates. c.u. had 422, d.u. 427, and mines 443.

c.c. dropped an early match to boulder, but more than compensated for this by winning the intercollegiates.

other men on the championship golf squad were lou worner, dale peterson, bob moyer, and bud day.

ralph miller, bob sweet, bob schultz, bob cosgrove, capt. jack reynolds, manager bill rhodes

led by jack reynolds, who was eastern prep school champion in his high school days, the colorado college fencing team enjoyed an undefeated season, meeting every team in the region. capt. reynolds was far and above the best fencer in the territory in all three divisions—epee, sabre, and foil. he was assisted by bob sweet, ralph miller, and bob schultze, who all developed into crack collegiate fencers by the end of the season. bill rhodes was the capable manager, arranging for the matches and refereeing when needed. bob cosgrove carried on as substitute.

the tiger d'artagnans first met the lowry field club, which boasted all commissioned officers, including a fencer from west point. unawed by the officers, the bengals won, 15-12, in an amazing upset, reynolds won eight of his nine matches.

after a demonstration at the swank el paso club, the fencers met mines, who had defeated c.u., and walloped the blasters, 26-8. then to make everything final in the last meet of the year—a triangular one with boulder and mines, the tigers emerged victorious by scoring as many points as the other two teams combined.

a newly organized team, the sport owes its revival to reynolds and rhodes, who devoted, along with the other members of the squad, many long and unselfish hours to the advancement of their sport.

top above—ben stewart comes down the trail, top middle—up swishes duane mathews, top right—this time it's capt. bob price, above—coach rawles stops to survey the situation.

the penland-coached racqueteers enjoyed a highly successful spring by defeating both conference opponents, mines and greeley.

the season opened when c.c. dropped a 5-4 meet to d.u. then came the 5-2 drubbing handed to mines. after dropping a meet to boulder, the tigers came back to eke out a 5-4 win over greeley to cop the conference crown. duane quamme, spike wilson, and ben slack were the three big racqueteers. they were assisted by don downey, capt. chuck friend, al fuquay, rollie dickison, and bert stiles.

being recognized as a minor sport for the first time, the ski team underwent a formative year this season. although unsuccessful in the won and lost record, the ski team at least functioned creditably and gave notice of developing into a strong squad, army permitting, later on.

dean rawles was the coach and organizer of the squad, and along with capt. bob price was instrumental in getting the sport recognized.

duane mathews, lloyd christiansen, bob price, gil davis, gene durr, george robinson, and ben stewart were members of the squad. in their first meet the skiers took third place behind mines and c.u. journeying to gunnison for the southern rocky mountain invitational meet, they took sixth place.

intramurals

a new regime was set up in intramurals this year with an intramural board under the supervision of advisor tony simone governing proceedings. the board is composed of representatives of the competing organizations and holds regular meetings every week.

an overloaded program was relieved of some of its burden by eliminating several less popular individualistic sports. however more emphasis was placed on the remaining ones. a and b leagues were created for the first time to give more men an opportunity to compete and also to match competition more evenly.

at the suggestion of athletic director van de graaff an achievement trophy was placed in competition for the first time this year. points are awarded on the basis of standings in intramural sports and scholarship. since the winner of this cup will be the outstanding male organization on the campus, the competition has been strong in both scholarship and sports. more entries than ever before were recorded in intramural events this year, and a considerable quantity of athletic ability was shown. softball, touchball, and basketball again led in popularity. competition and interest ran high in all sports with old rivalries flaming anew. boxing and wrestling proved most popular to the spectators and drew the largest crowd of the intramural year.

intramurals served not only as an important extra curricular activity but also as a part of the college's defense program. it is hoped that more emphasis will be placed on this method of physical education as it alone gives those who are unable to compete in varsity athletics an opportunity to learn team spirit and team work while exercising.

as we go to press with four sports yet to be played, sigma chi leads in the cup race followed in order by phi gamma delta, kappa sigma, beta theta pi, hagerman hall, phi delta theta and the campus tigers.

CLOTHES FOR YOUNG MEN

Success moves forward on the well-dressed shoulders of the young man. You stand up to address a meeting or enter a social gathering . . . In a split second you have either made a good or poor impression—and your clothes had a lot to do with it. . . . Perkins-Shearer clothes give a quiet, well-bred assurance. . . . They are an unmistakable asset—for the young man at the top or the one with his future before him.

Our Eyes...

Life begins for the baby with a brand new set of eyes—good ones, too, in all but a few cases. But when this young voyager reaches forty—what then of seeing ability? Can "Life Begin" again?

Safeguard Those Good Eyes with Better Light for Better Sight.
